End Tory 'civil war' says Mel

THE Tories must end their civil war centring on Boris Johnson, a Cabinet minister has said, as he defended Rishi Sunak's decision to dodge the vote branding him a liar.

Mel Stride said the "caravan has got to move on" from the former prime minister after the Commons backed the sanctions against him.

But Mr Sunak has been accused of a "cowardly cop-out" by avoiding the vote on the Privileges Committee's findings that Mr Johnson deliberately misled MPs over partygate.

The Prime Minister was accused by Labour of being "too weak" to stand up to his predecessor, who still commands a fan base among Tory voters.

Mr Stride said Mr Sunak had been busy with "long-standing events" including hosting his Swedish counterpart.

Charities moan over £150 payout

MORE than six million people with disabilities began receiving a one-off cost of living payment of £150 yesterday – but charities warn it "won't touch the sides".

The Department for Work and Pensions (DWP) began distributing the one-off sum to help support those struggling with the cost of living.

Those who qualify for the payments, which will be made until July 4, include those on disability living allowance, personal independence payments, attendance allowance and Scottish disability benefits, among others.

Because, well, there's no REAL crime to solve in London, is there..? COPS PROBE FOX BUNTING STUNT

THE Met Police are "assessing" the video of Laurence Fox burning gay bunting in his back garden.

Fox, who is preparing to compete for Boris Johnson's Uxbridge constituency, used a lighter at his home to set the display on fire on Father's Day.

A Twitter user claimed to have reported the video to police as a 'hate crime', which Fox has slammed as being 'arbitrary nonsense'.

The actor-turned-political activist added: "Thank you from the bottom of my heart for reporting me."

Fox said the flag in his video – which is the Progress Pride version created in 2018 – "is nothing to do with the original Pride flag which was to represent hard-fought-for gay and lesbian rights, which everybody would support".

Fox burned the flag in his back garden yesterday in an bewildering stunt during Pride Month.

Wearing a T-shirt with an image of a rainbow above the phrase 'Comes Before A Fall' – hinting that the message being giving was 'Pride Comes Before A Fall' – Fox said: "The most holy month of child mutilation.

This is what I think of your disgusting, vile, child sacrificial flag.

"Goodbye, goodbye, goodbye, goodbye, goodbye, goodbye, Pride, which isn't Pride. It's just a celebration of the mutilation of children. And you can shove it."

The video sparked uproar on Twitter, including user Matthew who simpered: "I have submitted this video to the police as a hate crime. This man has got away with far too much for far too long."

Fox hit back, saying he is hopeful that police "pay me a visit".

Lewis fears mortgage 'explosion'

CONSUMER champion Martin Lewis says a mortgage ticking time bomb he warned about is now exploding.

MoneySavingExpert.com founder Lewis says he highlighted a "mortgage ticking time bomb" last year.

He continued: "And I'm afraid that bomb is now exploding."

Mr Lewis said that if interest rates are going to be high over three or four years, people are going to have to readjust their finances.

He said he could not see a mortgage rescue package being brought in. Mr Lewis made his comments as Moneyfactscompare.co.uk showed the average two-year fixed-rate residential mortgage rate on the market jumped to 6.07% on Tuesday.

The average five-year fixed-rate deal is now 5.72%.

Lewis said: "What we really need is political pressure right now to say to banks either you make things better for mortgage holders or you make them better for savers."

Rising UK rents pile on pressure

THE average UK tenant spends more than 28% of their pay before tax on rent, new figures show.

It means people are spending more of their wages on rent than at any time in the last 10 years, according to Zoopla.

Average rents for new lets have also risen, jumping 10.4% in a year making it harder for people to afford places.

Richard Donnell, executive director at Zoopla, said there was signs of financial "stress" for tenants.

Rents have been growing faster than wages in the UK for nearly two years, according to the data.

That has meant in the majority of the UK, affordability of renting has been at its worst for a decade.

Man denies 1994 stabbing

Patel, from Finchley Road, London, appeared at the Old Bailey by video from Wandsworth prison.

Time's running out for missing Titanic sub...

By COLIN HURST neil@sundaysport.co.uk

RESCUERS face a race against time to find the missing submersible that lost contact near the wreck of the Titanic as its oxygen supply dwindles.

British billionaire Hamish Harding is one of five people on board the submersible craft Titan, which went missing on Sunday in the Atlantic Ocean.

It is understood from the vessel's operator, OceanGate Expeditions, Titan has a 96-hour oxygen supply in case of emergencies – meaning air will run out on Thursday afternoon.

A major search and rescue operation is taking place 900 miles east of Cape Cod – led by the US Coast Guard, involving military aircraft.

MISSING: Harding

It has warned the search has been "challenging" due to the remote location, some 435 miles south of Newfoundland, Canada.

Rear Admiral John W Mauger said: "We launched a C-130 aircraft to conduct an aerial search, both visual and radar of the scene."

"We've co-ordinated with the Canadian Coast Guard and Canadian Armed Forces to deploy more assets to the scene."

"The Canadians have had a C-130 aircraft searching as well, in addition to also having a P-8 submarine search aircraft deploy as well, and put sonar buoys in the water in attempt to listen."

The Titan lost contact with research vessel Polar Prince about an hour and 45 minutes into the vessel's dive on Sunday morning.

Alongside Mr Harding, French pilot Paul-Henry Nargeolet, and chief executive and founder of OceanGate, Stockton Rush, are also on board.

Pray

Pakistani tycoon Shahzada Dawood and his son, Suleman, are on board, their family said.

"We are grateful for the concern being shown by our colleagues and friends and would like to request everyone to pray for their safety," it added.

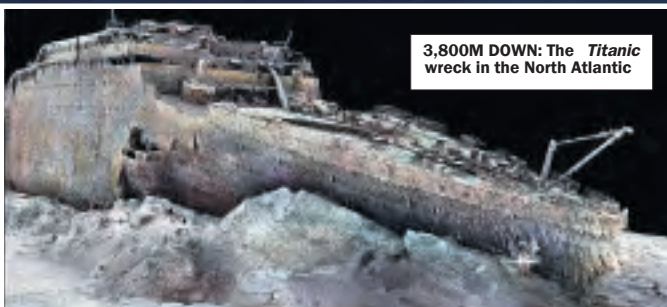

OceanGate said it was "exploring and mobilising all options" to bring the crew back safely.

The Titan is capable of diving 13,120ft "with a safety margin" and would take two hours to descend approximately 12,500ft where the Titanic wreck lies.

The vessel operates by pinging back a message every 15 minutes to signal to those ashore that it is safe. Those those pings have stopped.

Marine operations specialist Mike Welham said: "The biggest problem is the depth of water at the Titanic site."

"It's about 3,800m and you need very specialised underwater vehicles to go down to that depth and they're not really readily available."

LOTS of topless scenes and a bit where Lily-Rose Depp fingers her fanny were not just added into new series The Idol to thrill the dads...

They are VITAL to the story, the actress has insisted.

The 24-year-old, who portrays an international pop star in the HBO drama, had no hesitation about shooting the controversial intimate moments for the show because she was made to feel very comfortable on set and knew they were vital to the plot.

Asked if she was hesitant about doing the scenes, she said: "Honestly, no, because those scenes are so important to the character and the story."

"I was really blessed to be surrounded by good people all the time."

"I really did feel as though they were listening to me and that they valued my opinions."

And Lily-Rose's relationship with co-star The Weeknd – real name Abel Tesfaye – also helped her on set.

She added: "We created this really strong bond because we were both stepping into new territory."

"I'm not a singer and he wasn't an actor before this."

"I would get nervous about the singing and he would be there for me. He gave me the confidence to do things I wasn't sure that I could do."

Torn

Lily-Rose thinks it is good that the show explores the idea of celebs being put on a pedestal before being torn down.

She said: "I think something the show talks about is the way we idolise people in the public eye today."

Jen on naked scenes: I take a deep breath

JENNIFER Lawrence has revealed what it felt like to get nude in the upcoming film No Hard Feelings.

The actress said she "took a deep breath" and then "disrobed".

The scene occurs when Jen's character, alongside co-star Andrew Barth Feldman, go skinny dipping only to discover their clothes have been stolen.

"I never second guessed it," Feldman added. "Much like everything in this movie, you just have to do it, and then it will be done."

He added that being nude on-camera is a universally "weird and uncomfortable thing".

No Hard Feelings follows Maddie (Jen), a young woman who answers a Craigslist ad posted by two wealthy parents looking for someone to date their shy teen son Percy (Feldman) before he heads to college – an idea born from a real Craigslist listing that director Gene Stupnitsky spotted.

IN 1973 the theme to the original Van der Valk – Eye Level by the Simon Park Orchestra – spent four weeks at No.1 in the UK charts.

The B-side of the single was Distant Hills, better known as the closing credits theme to ITV's Crown Court.

The tune was also later used in adverts for the Dutch beer Oranjeboom.

For reasons best known to themselves, TV bosses have not used the catchy instrumental for the theme of the reborn Van der Valk, now back for its third series.

The hero is played by Marc Warren of Hustle fame and is, once more, set in the crime plagued streets of drug-addled Amsterdam.

And Warren has firmly assured fans that it will not disappoint.

"I think it does get stronger," he said. "It's a show that's learning, and we take what's good and we get rid of the things that don't work... hopefully we've made it more entertaining."

Maimie McCoy, who

"We've got homeless Frank and Cliff, and the café," she added. "And Hendrik is much more involved in the crimes. That is the beating heart of the show. You get the wit and lightness with that. It keeps it alive and vibrant."

Tate charged with rape and trafficking

CONTROVERSIAL influencer Andrew Tate has been charged in Romania with rape, human trafficking and forming an organised crime group to sexually exploit women.

His brother Tristan and two associates have also been charged. All deny the allegations.

The Tate brothers were first arrested at their Bucharest home in December.

In March, they were moved to house arrest following a ruling by a Romanian judge.

The indictment says the four defendants formed an organised criminal group in 2021 to commit human trafficking in Romania, but also in other countries including the US and the UK.

It names seven alleged victims who it says were recruited by the Tate brothers through false promises of love and marriage.

Andrew Tate has been charged with raping one victim, while his brother has been charged with instigating others to violence.

Eating disorder linked to porn

MALE eating disorders are on the rise and boffins reckon it's linked to porn.

A new paper published in the journal Body Image highlights a link between "problematic" porn use and eating disorder symptoms in young men.

According to the study, by Israeli academics Ateret Gewirtz-Meydan and Zohar Spivak-Lavi, the more problematic a man's relationship with porn tends to be, the more likely he is to be dissatisfied with his body and, ultimately, more vulnerable to developing various eating disorders.

Dr Gewirtz-Meydan said that "problematic porn use refers to a pattern of compulsive and unhealthy engagement with porn that negatively impacts an individual's well-being, relationships or daily functioning".

She added: "It is seen as part of compulsive sexual behaviour – a severe impulse control disorder."

In case you were wondering, 'Influencer' Lottie is famous because she's the sister of Louis Tomlinson who is in the pop group One Direction.

A FURIOUS hubby says a top politician had an affair with his wife and even got her involved in spunk-splattered GROUP SEX orgies.

Scott Riley Lassiter claims that Tim Moore, who is Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives, started an affair with his wife and people seeking political favours.

Mr Lassiter is suing Moore and another unnamed defendant for several claims, including "alienation of affections" and civil conspiracy.

Court documents allege Moore "used his position as Speaker to initiate contact and develop a relationship with Mrs Lassiter, despite knowing she was married to Plaintiff."

Lassiter's spouse worked for the state and she had known the Speaker for years. The lawsuit says Lassiter heard rumours that his wife was having an affair with Moore. On December 21, 2022, Lassiter spied on his wife after she said she was going to see a movie with a friend. He found she went to dinner with Moore at a steakhouse.

The court documents say Lassiter found that his wife and Moore went to Moore's home in Raleigh and spent hours together. Lassiter says he believed that Moore and his wife had sex.

The lawsuit included a picture of Mrs Lassiter and Moore outside of the steakhouse.

According to the lawsuit, Lassiter's wife allegedly admitted to the affair when she was confronted.

The lawsuit says Lassiter's wife confessed she had been having an affair for three years, and that "she had engaged in sexual activity with Defendant

Tim Moore, including group sex with other individuals, and that she feared ending the relationship with [Moore] would result in losing her job."

Court documents say Lassiter asked to speak with Moore to confront him about the affair.

Lassiter met with Moore and he admitted to having a multi-year sexual relationship with Mrs Lassiter.

According to the lawsuit, Moore asked Lassiter at the end of the meeting, "if there was anything he could do for Plaintiff, implying that he could use the power he held as Speaker in some way to benefit Plaintiff."

Lashing

Moore's attorney said the claims were false.

"I look forward to meeting Mr Lassiter in the courtroom. We are confident the Speaker will be vindicated," Moore's attorney said.

Lassiter's wife also issued a statement, saying that Moore isn't to blame.

"The claims are not only false but impossible as we've been separated with a signed separation document for years," she said.

"Our marriage was a nightmare, and since I left him it has gotten worse. We are reaching the end of our divorce process and this is how he's lashing out."

Grocery price inflation falls

GROCERY price inflation has fallen to its lowest monthly rate this year – but remains at its sixth highest level since 2008, new figures show.

It dropped to 16.5% for the four weeks to June 11, down from last month's 17.2% and March's record 17.5%, according to analysts Kantar.

A Kantar spokesman said: "This is the lowest rate of grocery price inflation we've seen in 2023, which will be a relief to shoppers and retailers."

Forest fire down to arsonist, not climate change

A FOREST fire which green loons blamed on climate change was in fact started by a 71-year-old arsonist.

Global warming enthusiasts jumped with glee and yelped: "Told you so!" when 22,000 acres of the Yosemite National Park went up in flames in July last year.

But now Edward Wackerman (above) of Mariposa, California, has been arrested on suspicion of arson for allegedly igniting the Oak Fire, which destroyed 127 homes and caused thousands of people to evacuate.

The suspect is facing charges of suspicion of aggravated arson, arson that causes great bodily injury and arson causing damage or destruction of inhabited structures, the California Department of Forestry confirmed.

It isn't clear how Wackerman may have started the blaze, or what led to his arrest.

At the height of the massive blaze, about 6,000 people living in the nearby mountain communities were ordered by officials to flee their homes.

Axe attack at restaurants

FOUR people were hospitalised after a man armed with an axe began attacking diners at random at three neighbouring Chinese restaurants.

They said they arrested a 24-year-old at the scene in Auckland, New Zealand, and charged him with wounding and intending to cause grievous bodily harm.

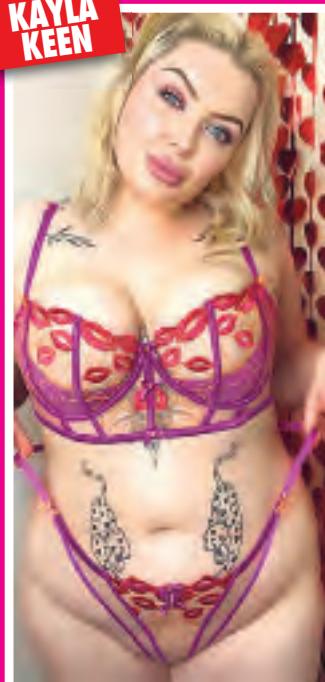

Police did not immediately offer a motive for the attack.

A diner said he was eating dinner with a friend when the man walked in and started attacking his friend, who was seriously injured.

"I was in shock. When I realised what was happening, he tried to target me," the man, who asked not to be named, said.

"I blocked his axe with my hand. He was also trying to target my head, so I blocked the axe with my hand."

Son 'who killed mother at sea' dies in jail cell

A MAN awaiting trial for allegedly killing his mum at sea, to get his hands on a £5.5million inheritance, was found dead in his jail cell.

Nathan Carman's body was discovered inside a cell in Keene, New Hampshire, when officers were making their rounds.

The 29-year-old's cause of death is still under investigation, officials said, adding that Carman was the sole occupant of the cell at the time.

Carman, who pleaded not guilty last year to fraud and first-degree murder in the death of Linda Carman, was due to go on trial in October.

Prosecutors alleged Carman had planned to kill his mum on a fishing trip by making it appear as if their boat had sunk.

Eight days after they set off from a Rhode Island marina in September 2016, Carman was found alone floating in an inflatable raft.

He told the US Coast Guard he had tried to save his mother from the sinking boat, but prosecutors alleged Carman altered the boat to make it more likely to sink.

A RANDY riding teacher has been jailed after she was spit-roasted by two 17-year-old lads in the stables.

Makaila Yablonski, 25, was charged with sexual abuse, sexual conduct with a minor, public sexual indecency, and indecent exposure with a victim who is 15 years of age or more.

Yablonski was arrested in July last year and booked into the Yuma County Detention Centre.

The investigation began as an assault, which led authorities to discover a sexual offence, the sheriff's office said.

Investigators identified two male 17-year-olds as victims in the probe.

The sheriff's office said the alleged incident happened at stables in Yuma, Arizona.

Yablonski pleaded guilty to two counts of attempted child abuse and aggravated assault in March.

Her sentencing had been delayed because her attorney asked the judge to remove the stipulation that Yablonski must register as a sex offender upon her release.

But at a hearing last week, Judge Roger Nelson denied that request.

Yablonski was sentenced to one and a half years in prison.

"Garrett was well-known for his athletic skills and personality in Key West."

CCTV caught Garrett walking out of the bar shirtless towards the wall of another building at just after midnight. Brewer (below) can also be

Stripper nicks £50k off drunk lap dance fan

A STRIPPER was held for plying a punter with tequila, then using his credit card and PayPal details to nick £50,000 off him.

Yannelin Rivera-Bosaw, 34 (above), was one of several women who performed lap dances for the victim in a private VIP room at Playmates in Miami, Florida.

Claiming it free, the whirlwind of women repeatedly poured tequila shots down the man's throat until he became so drunk, he could no longer stand.

As her colleagues gyrated to keep the victim distracted, Rivera-Bosaw relieved the unidentified man of his mobile phone and wallet.

When he sobered up and checked his accounts, the man saw six unauthorised PayPal withdrawals to an unknown person, and several charges to his credit cards.

He realised Rivera-Bosaw put her number into his mobile to send herself payments, so called the cops.

ASK them to answer honestly and most women will agree they love something strong, powerful and throbbing between their legs.

And for many, that means a MOTORBIKE – as well as a hard COCK! Today is when bikers around the globe celebrate World Motorcycle Day.

And while to many, bikes are death traps, they are still hugely popular.

What's more, they attract lots of stunning ladies who like getting their busters out, too...

I HAVE a real thing for older men. My wildest fantasy is pulling a silver fox!

I'm 22 and I like them about 20 to even 30 years older. I love a DILF or even a GILF! Younger guys just don't do it for me. Baby faces... yuk, no thank you!

A lot of them haven't got a clue what to do with a woman. They're fumbling around and it's a huge turn off.

I have a good relationship with my father so I don't have any 'Daddy issues'.

I just like a more mature man... I think it's the confidence and authority. You know they've been around and know how to please a woman in bed.

They have to be in good nick, mind.

I wouldn't say no to Paul Hollywood who is 57. Or Hugh Grant who is 62.

The oldest guy I've slept with is 49. That's my Dad's age!

A BEAR that let itself into a home was looking for more than porridge.

The daring bear grabbed a quick meal before it was caught on video in Steamboat Springs, Colorado, trying to escape from an upstairs window after it accidentally locked itself in a bedroom at the home.

Neighbour Heidi Hannah caught the intruder on video and called the police for help when she realised the owners were out.

The large bear made several attempts to drop to the ground before it swung itself back into the bedroom, where an officer who responded to the call had opened the door.

The beast went back downstairs, slipped through the window it had entered through, and disappeared into the woods.

Homeowner Ryan MacFarlane said: "He got his nails in there and just ripped that window right open, and got inside and helped himself to my pork chops I had out for dinner that night, got some snacks out of the pantry and knocked over plants... nothing too crazy."

"Grateful that he was a respectful house guest!"

A MAN was mauled to death by a black bear in an unprovoked attack that left officials puzzled.

Steven Jackson, 66, was drinking a cup of coffee at an outside table on his wooded Groom Creek, Arizona, property when the large adult male black bear struck, the Yavapai County Sheriff's Office said.

Mr Jackson, who was building a home on the grounds, appeared completely unaware of the predator until it pounced on him and dragged him 75ft down an embankment, where it began mauling the OAP.

Neighbours who heard Mr Jackson screaming for help tried to deter the bear by shouting and honking their horns, but the animal refused to let go until one local fired his rifle and killed it.

"Unfortunately, by that time Mr Jackson had succumbed to his horrific injuries," the sheriff's office said.

MISS BONKED LAD, 15, AT BOOZY HALLOWEEN BASH

BANGED UP: Rachelle Terry

Fancy a Slow Comfortable Screw Against the Wall?

WE bet one of those goes down a treat!

Porn beauty Hannah Brooks has been honoured by her local boozer – which has named a cheeky COCKTAIL after her!

The 30G stunner was gobsmacked when she popped into the Somerset boozer and saw her name on the posh booze menu!

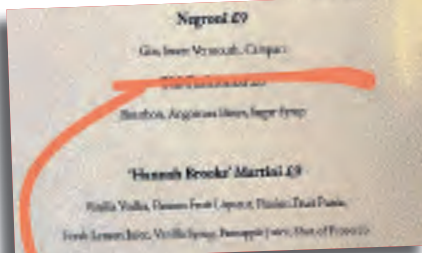

She laughed: "The local pub did a new cocktail menu and rather than a porn star martini, they called it the Hannah Brooks martini!"

Hannah is already big news her village, after she sponsored her local cricket team.

The lads turn out each week in kit that promotes Hannah's saucy online antics.

A MILF school worker admitted bonking a 15-year-old student while also hosting a boozy Halloween party.

Rachelle Louise Terry, 43, who served as the director of enrolment with the Murray County School District in Georgia, pleaded guilty to statutory rape, sexual exploitation of children, tampering with evidence, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and furnishing alcohol to minors.

Superior Court Judge Scott Minter ordered Terry to serve three years in a Georgia Department of Corrections facility plus another 12 years of probation following her release.

Authorities started looking into Terry back in November after allegations she gave alcohol to children at a Halloween party hosted at her home.

Steve Loughridge, the Murray County superintendent of schools, contacted Murray County Sheriff's Office and reported the parents of one of the students who attended the party filed a complaint about the gathering.

Due to a potential conflict of interest, the sheriff's office requested that officials with the Conasauga District Attorney's Office take control of the probe.

The conflict stemmed from the sheriff's office providing officers to local schools.

An investigation into those allegations by the Conasauga County District Attorney's Office revealed that Terry had been having a "sexual relationship" with a student.

The DA's office then requested the assistance of special agents to continue the probe.

Videos

Investigators got hold of videos and photos from the mobile phones of juvenile students who attended the party after their parents consented.

Those searches turned up digital evidence of Terry having a "sexual relationship" with a 15-year-old student in the Murray County School District.

The 15-year-old pupil confirmed he and Terry had engaged in sexual acts together.

S MOKIN' hot Amber Mae has confessed she enjoys groping her girlfriends' BOOBS and spanking their BUMS.

And the 34C stunna says she would love to take it even further next time.

Amber revealed her wildest sexual fantasy is getting it on with another girl AND a guy.

The Manchester lass said: "Like any woman, I've kissed other girls when tipsy. I think that's just part of being young and experimenting. You end up having a little too much champagne, and the next thing you know you're getting off with one of your female friends.

"I've played with girls' boobs before, and spanked them on their bare arse, but I've never had full sex with any. I wouldn't rule it out though!"

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

The day we met Insta-twats

THRUSTING:
Beyoncé's musical output

I CAN'T say that I've ever been a fan of Beyoncé.

It's probably sacrilege to say so, and no doubt a bolt of last weekend's lightning is waiting for me to step outside.

But she's just dull.

Her supposedly wonderful arse is far too fat for my taste and her music, the entire point of her celebrity, is like a Black & Decker drill thrusting firmly into the temple lobes.

Since she's been on the scene, I've managed to avoid most of her stale, same-same output mainly by turning over or turning off.

It's not that hard to do.

But then, in the last couple of weeks, I went on holiday.

There were three pools at this "adult only" hillside hotel.

The one in the middle had all the personality and verve of a terminal cancer unit, and offered just a machine dishing out free coffee, water and the sort of fruit cordials we can buy at Lidl.

At the bottom, the "main" pool was where, from 10am, the speakers would boom out grunge and garage and sweaty rap crap.

It also boasted a very well-stocked bar which helped immensely while we got slowly stewed watching stupidly pissed Englishmen slip on the too-slippery tiles next to the pool.

And up-yet-more-stairs, the "rooftop" pool, which also had a bar, but no music, and definitely no twats.

Essentially, the Old Duffers' Pool. Purgatory Waters. Deep Under Rainbow Bridge. You get the drift.

As the latter was within spitting distance of our otherwise faraway room, located by navigating down crumbling stone steps, then back up more steps, and then around four corners with no lights and a really fking heavy suitcase, we made that our "place".

But then, last Wednesday, our final full day, we were invaded by something I've long been aware of but never witnessed in real life.

Instagrammers and TikTokkers. And fk my old boots. They're all MAD.

At 10am, just 90 minutes after we'd laid down on our pre-lain beach towels, smothered ourselves in expensive cooking oil, preparing to slowly roast throughout the day, they arrived.

Five of them. Somehow sharing two sunbeds.

None of them particularly pretty, but all of them seemingly thinking otherwise.

Thongs yanked so firmly into their arse cracks that you just know the stains won't ever come out.

And of course, the cameras.

As Beyoncé's Single Ladies burst out of their Bluetooth speakers, shattering the otherwise peaceful vibe of God's waiting room, it began.

Starting with terrifically shit youth club disco dancing, they held one hand in the air like someone was watching – which they were: me and the missus, agog – and the other holding their phones.

The mobiles wheeled in and out, backwards and forwards, for close ups and wides.

Then the photos.

Pouting fake lips. Sticking out their arses. Lifting one foot onto the toes for better calf definition.

Head to the left to hide the extra chin. Arms up to make the boobs look better.

Staring wistfully at the scenery. Then staring wistfully at the camera.

Then staring at said phones while they hurriedly logged their hashtags and spiritually uplifting statements as if anyone anywhere actually gave a flying fk.

And then my missus completely saw her own arse, had a word with the lovely manager, and got the bunch of vacuous, brainless cts chucked out down below to the mad bar.

Where no doubt they instantly Insta'd their disapproval of Mr Gammon and his wife, Karen.

But there you have it.

When in doubt, the missus has clout.

Just don't say it front of her.

Camera crew survive tiger shark attacks

A DOCUMENTARY film crew had a scary encounter in the waters of the Pacific Ocean north of Hawaii when the blow-up boats they were floating in were attacked by 15-foot tiger sharks.

The crew, who were collecting footage of a Laysan albatross's maiden flight for David Attenborough's Our Planet II, had been aiming to get shots underwater during the six-day trip.

Producer/director Toby Nowlan described the terrifying scene: "A 'v' of water came streaming towards us and this tiger shark leaped at the boat and bit huge holes in it. The boat exploded!"

"We were trying to get it away and it wasn't having any of it. It was horrific. That was the second shark that day to attack us."

The director called the sharks' behaviour "extremely unusual", adding: "They were incredibly hungry, so there might not have been enough natural food – they were trying anything they came across in the water."

Coast Guard bag £145m of coke

THAT'S not to be sniffed at – coastguards landed cocaine worth more than £145million after docking in port following a series of successful raids on smugglers.

More than 14,000lbs of illicit narcotics were intercepted by guardsmen in nine operations, the Coast Guard confirmed.

The missions took place in the international waters of the Caribbean Sea and Atlantic Ocean.

As well as confiscating the drugs, authorities arrested 12 suspected drug smugglers on various charges, who will now face prosecution in US federal courts.

A spokesman for the Coast Guard said: "The contraband offloaded represents the professional expertise and dedication of US defence and law enforcement agencies working together to combat the flow of illicit drugs through the Caribbean into the US."

Pam gave all black women in movies a different platform

WHEN actress Pam Grier revealed her amazing boobs on camera she started a REVOLUTION!

Hollywood legend Pam Grier looked back on the beginning of her decades-long career, during which she made a point of appearing nude on film.

She told US chat show host Sherri Shepherd: "I get my womanhood, my foxiness, my Coffy-ness, from each and every one of you... I wanted to show us being beautiful at all stages of who we are."

Pam is credited with being one of the industry's first female action stars.

The actress explained that, before she starred in the 1974 hit Foxy Brown, she played an Indigenous African woman in the movie The Arena.

She said: "I studied National Geographic like, OK, when I do the frontal nudity, do I need to shave or wax? But it was the beauty of the freedom of the African woman."

Pam previously spoke about starting the Brown Nipple Revolution, saying she was "trying to break that line of what was acceptable in society".

She added: "I did nudity to make people accept seeing women in power, with martial arts and guns. I wanted to make people start seeing women of colour, because we weren't the epitome of sexual attraction for the male audience in movies."

Dear Sam,

I'M having a bit of a mid-life crisis – or so my wife keeps telling me. I've just bought a Harley Davidson and a Maserati, and she thinks it's so I can pull the chicks.

I told her it was just that at our time of life – with no mortgage, no kids at home and a couple of financially sound investments maturing – we should live the dream.

But while I was driving the other day I had my sunglasses on and a bird suddenly poked her head through the car window.

Then she snogged the face off me and said she'd like to suck my cock! I couldn't believe it so, of course, I let her.

A couple of days later, another chick was giving me the eye as I waited at traffic lights and then I found a phone number under my wiper blade.

What's happening?

HT, Sussex

Sam says...

SOUNDS like life is just beginning for you. Enjoy it!

Dear Sam,

I GET these tremendous erections and this has been going on for quite some time. So what's the problem, I hear you ask?

But now, to my horror, in the last week they have been starting when I wake up and lasting all day – only to crash to earth when my bird comes round ready for a good shafting.

So, the long and the short of it is my cock is ready for action all the time, except when I need it most.

It's really getting me down. Have you ever come across this condition and do you have any advice?

JS, south Wales

Sam says...

GET your bird to stay overnight to make the most of your morning glory.

Secretary gave me oral and full sex to earn hubby a job

Dear Sam,

MY secretary at work recently said she'd suck me off if I gave her husband a job.

Of course, I agreed and she undid her blouse, knelt down in front of my chair and started stroking my cock.

I couldn't believe my luck, as I've been lusting after her for ages and we'd been flirting with each other.

She's 38, with dark hair and a lovely body.

brought me off between her boobs.

I sorted out a job for her fella but she wanted to carry on with our sex thing, and asked me to bend her over my desk and pump her hard and fast.

Since then I've been shagging her almost every night, as her husband is on the night shift.

The only problem is that last week she told me that she now wants to leave her husband and move in with me.

But I just want to fk her. Help!

FR, Essex

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week SAM TYE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

My mega boobs bring hunks under my spell

Dear Sam,

MY enormous 36DD breasts have opened lots of doors for me.

As an 18-year-old university student, I've found even the most hardened geek crumbles at the sight of them struggling to force their way out of the tight tops I wear. They start drooling the moment I enter the college bar – and I make it my business to pull as many as I can.

Moist

Recently I have been going to the gym on campus and I've built up quite a following among the rugby-playing hunks who hang out there.

One day I went with my pals and all the guys lifting weights were ogling me. I noticed one in particular had got a tremendous hard-on, which was clearly visible through his shorts.

It was all I could do to stop myself going over and grabbing his manhood right there and then.

The fella was one of the rugby crowd, and although his ears had taken a bit of a hammering through being in so many scrums, he was well sexy with really big muscles.

When my pals had left, it was just me and the tall 15-stone hunk left in the gym.

I was moist, steamy and well up for a shag, so I went up to him with my boobs bursting out of my top and invited him to the showers.

We locked the door behind us and he wasted no time pulling my top down.

My boobs sprang out and he played with them until my nipples were erect and then started sucking on them.

Slipping off his shorts and jock-strap, I wrapped his solid cock in the ample folds of my boobs.

I gave him a slow, sensuous tit-wank until I could sense the pressure building up inside his rock-hard cock.

By this time my pussy was dripping wet with love juices and I whispered that I wanted him to fk me senseless.

He turned me round and spread my legs roughly as I leaned over a bench and then entered me like a steam train.

Well, I'd heard that rugby players are renowned for their stamina and this fella proved the point in no uncertain terms.

He pounded away for what seemed like an age and I literally screamed the place down as I enjoyed orgasm after orgasm until he finally let out a grunt and shot a load of his man-milk deep inside me.

We've had several more amazing sessions since and I'm loving it.

I've had so much fun thanks to my boobs, I'm wondering if I should have them made even bigger.

What do you think?

AC, Lanes

Sam says...

WHY waste the money? Sounds like you're having a great time with the ones you've got.

Dear Sam,

MY missus is very fit and great in bed, but I wouldn't be a proper bloke if I didn't have a healthy interest in other women.

Usually I keep it in check, but when we went round to her mate's house for a drink a couple of weeks ago I let my basic urges overcome me.

I went for a pee and, while in the bog, the pal came in – as I hadn't bothered to lock the door.

She gasped at the sight of my dick and made a lunge for it.

It was rock-hard as soon as you could say "stalk on".

She pulled me off quickly and we both returned to the lounge as if nothing had happened.

Well, a nod's as good as a wink to a blind horse, so I went round there the next night and gave her a right seeling-to.

I started out by leading her back to the bog and getting her to pull me off again.

Then she sucked me to hardness and I bent her over the cistern and slid it up her doggy-style.

Finally, I shot my sticky mess over her boobs and she greedily licked it up.

But now I feel a little guilty and I wonder if I should own up to my girlfriend.

BF, north Yorks

Sam says...

SAY now!

Busty blonde gave us great ride in van

Dear Sam,

I WORK as a joiner for a construction company in London and recently I was instructed to take an apprentice on various jobs with me.

I can't say I was too thrilled about the idea, but he's shown himself to be a willing lad and on a job last week I asked him to get a drill from the van.

I waited for what seemed like ages and, when he didn't reappear, I went in search of him.

But when I got to the van, I heard grunts and groans coming from inside.

I flung open the door to find him naked, drilling a blonde with big tits.

It seemed she was a divorcee who lived in some flats nearby and had clocked us as we went about our work and had taken a fancy to my apprentice.

Sucked

I was outraged at first and was ready to give them both a mouthful, but then the busty blonde beckoned me inside the van.

She took out my cock and sucked me off while being done from behind by my teenage apprentice.

Then we swapped over and I gave her a good shafting while she gave my workmate a blowjob.

Suddenly, the doors opened and there stood the foreman with a face like thunder.

Now we are facing a disciplinary hearing. What do you think are our chances of getting away with it?

WK, London

Sam says...

SLIM. You really should have done the obvious and asked the foreman to join in.

DO YOU HAVE A SEX PROBLEM?

#HOT'N'HORNY

AWESOME Amber Jayne loves watching blue movies – which is just as well, because she's a porn star herself.

But the busty MILF has a critical eye and can always spot if performers are actually faking it.

She explained: "I like watching porn, it depends on my mood. I'm all about sexual chemistry and I can tell straight away if two people are genuinely into each other and the sex is real and hot."

"That's always guaranteed to get my juices flowing!"

And if you want to have a paddle in Amber Jayne's juices yourself, being polite would be a good start.

She said: "I don't have a specific type – my physical type varies on a daily basis, I'd say."

"But I'm greedy, so I'd be limiting myself by having just one 'type'."

"However, good manners are a real turn-on for me!"

Gary, 32, told us he always has a copy of Midweek Sport in his work van to wile away his lunch hour ogling his favourite babes.

Gary said: "In my work I often get stuck in my van for hours at a time.

"I always keep my fingers crossed that I will see Cara and her superb 32Gs in the paper – but it's been bloody ages since you printed a photo of her!"

DONNA EWIN

ENGLISH tutor Richard Thornton holds a candle for Donna Ewin and admits that, like his favourite 17th century poems, his love will never be returned by the Bethnal Green babe.

Bookworm Richard, 58, said it's Donna's eye popping 34DD bra-busters that do it for him.

Richard, from the Isle of Wight, said: "Donna is drop-dead gorgeous, the kind of girl I've been waiting for all my life.

"But a guy like me wouldn't stand a chance with someone as fit as her, so I guess I'll have to make do with a pic of her. Make it a good one!"

DEBBIE CORRIGAN

DELICIOUS Debbie Corrigan, from Manchester, has landed a spot in this week's Show Me The Honey thanks to a letter sent in by her biggest fan Marc Gallagher.

The 53-year-old accountant, from Salford, said Debbie is his ideal woman.

He said: "Can you print a photo of Debbie for me soon? She's a neighbour, just over the Irwell from where I live, but I haven't been lucky enough to catch a glimpse of her, or her 34C knockers, in the flesh yet, sadly!"

Steel bidding to be King for Joorabchian

KING OF STEEL could be the horse that gives Amo Racing a treasured first Royal Ascot winner if lining up in the King Edward VII Stakes on Friday.

Despite having plenty of runners at the showpiece meeting in recent years, the racing operation of Kia Joorabchian is yet to find the scoresheet.

And while the two-year-old division normally provides Amo with their best shot at glory, this time around hopes could be pinned to the Derby runner-up, providing he is given the go-ahead for the Group Two contest.

"It's obvious, but if King Of Steel turns up in the same form as he did at Epsom he would have an outstanding chance," said Tom Pennington, racing and operations manager for Amo Racing.

"You know what this sport is like and there is no such thing as a guaranteed winner, but if you are going into a Royal Ascot Group Two with an 11-8 or 6-4 shot, then that doesn't happen too often."

Scoreboard

Amo Racing's purple silks have become a prominent fixture on the racecourse since Joorabchian's increased investment in the sport, with a winner at the Royal meeting being what he has craved most of all.

"Kia, arguably his whole season revolves around this week and it would be huge for him and the team to get on the scoreboard," continued Pennington.

"It's the Olympics of our sport and where everyone wants to be, so it would be a big moment and a deserved moment considering the level of investment Kia and Amo Racing have put into the sport.

"If we can just get one winner this week, it would mean an awful lot to everyone."

King Of Steel could be

OWNER: Joorabchian joined at the meeting by his Roger Varian-trained stablemate Olivia Maralda.

And she is also backed to be one of Amo's leading players when she lines up in the Jersey Stakes, while Maximum Impact and Magical Sunset are also poised to provide the leading owners with live claims in their respective Royal Ascot assignments.

"I know she's taking on colts, but Olivia Maralda based on her Epsom run in the Surrey Stakes, would go there with a live chance," added Pennington.

"In terms of two-year-olds, I would say Maximum Impact would be at the forefront of our minds but again you have 25 plus runners in these two-year-old races and you need a lot of luck in running."

"I think Magical Sunset is a lovely filly and I can't believe the handicapper put her up 4lb for her run behind Olivia Maralda in the Surrey Stakes."

"She looked potentially high-class last year and we need to sit down and discuss it with Richard (Hannon, trainer)."

"I think she will improve for a step up to a mile and even though she might be a couple of pounds too high, she might be a couple of pounds too high, she might be just under the radar in the Sandringham - I think she would have a squeak in that at a price."

ALL THE TOP TIPS FOR TODAY'S RACING

Luxembourg can score for O'Brien

LUXEMBOURG can come out on top in what looks one of the best renewals of the Prince of Wales's Stakes at Royal Ascot for years.

The 2021 Derby winner Adayar, last season's Champion Stakes hero Bay Bridge and William Haggas' Prix Eugene Adam scorer My Prospero line up alongside Aidan O'Brien's star, who has himself won three Group Ones, the most recent of those being the Tattersalls Gold Cup - in which he beat Bay Bridge.

Luxembourg ran no sort of race on his reappearance when only fifth in a Group Two, but improved to fend off Bay Bridge when making all the running, showing his versatility.

With his three main market rivals all probably better off on easier ground, O'Brien is taken to bag another Group One.

Prosperous Voyage was another to return to winning form last time and she can continue her roll in the Duke of Cambridge Stakes.

Beaten just a neck into second in last year's 1000 Guineas, she disappointed in the Coronation Stake at this meeting last year - beaten nine lengths by the impressive winner Inspiral.

Sent off a 16-1 shot for the

By MIKE FRANCIS

Falmouth next time, she turned around that form to beat Inspiral by a length and three-quarters but failed to make an impact on either of her further two starts before again looking a bit lacklustre first time up this term.

However, back on quick ground at Epsom on Derby day, Prosperous Voyage roared back to form, overcoming a tardy start to run out a tidy winner of the Princess Elizabeth and if conditions remain fast in Berkshire, she can shine.

Karl Burke can record back-to-back wins in the Queen Mary Stakes with Beautiful Diamond fancied to see off stablemate Got To Love A Grey.

Dramatised won for the Leyburn handler 12 months ago and Burke has said all season this year's crop of juveniles are his best yet.

Those results have been borne out on the track and Beautiful Diamond, an expensive buy, looked top class when making a winning debut at Nottingham.

The form has yet to be really tested and the second and third were also making their debuts, but the fourth home had finished second on her debut at Sandown, beaten just a neck, so gives a pretty good gauge.

Saeed bin Suroor's Ghaly has not stood much racing in his six years in training but remains a horse full of potential.

Off the track for the best part of two years, he looked a different proposition on his return from injury last season.

He won a nice pot at York before a career-best effort in beating King Of Conquest at Newmarket in October and as that one has won his next three, going from 88 to 112 in the process, including a Listed win, Ghaly looks well treated off just 8lb higher in the Royal Hunt Cup.

Chesspiece can win the Queen's Vase for Simon and Ed Crisford.

Thrive

Winner of his only start at two, he was then third in a novice event behind Military Order, who went on to win the Lingfield Derby Trial.

Making his handicap debut off 96 over a mile and a half at York, he looked in a different league and also should thrive for the extra distance.

A big unit, any rain would not hurt his cause.

Alice Haynes has burst on to the scene in the past couple of seasons and victory for Maximum Impact in the Windsor Castle Stakes would take it to a new level for her.

A 12-length winner on debut at Leicester, he followed up on much quicker ground at Ascot beating another previous winner and he looks a solid option.

The Owen Burrows-trained Tarrabb performed well enough first time out to suggest she should be on the premises in the Kensington Palace Fillies' Handicap.

If punters have any money left for evening racing at Ripon, Another Baar will take some stopping under a penalty in the Wells Memorial Challenge Trophy Handicap.

While he is 10lb higher than when winning over course and distance, there is something up his sleeve.

Frankie's mentor up for Ascot farewell

CUMANI HOPES FELLOW ITALIAN CAN END ON A WINNING NOTE

HAVING played a key role in the very start of Frankie Dettori's love affair with Royal Ascot, Luca Cumanì will be a keen observer when his compatriot bids for a fairytale ending to his association with the meeting.

It is 38 years since a then-teenage Dettori first touched down on British soil, at which stage his experience of riding thoroughbreds was almost as non-existent as his ability to speak English.

Cumanì, by then an established trainer at Bedford House stables in Newmarket having previously served as assistant to the late, great Sir Henry Cecil, was tasked with showing his fellow Italian the ropes – and insists it did not take him long to realise he had a rough diamond on his hands.

"Frankie's father was my father's stable jockey in Italy, so that was the connection. His father decided that he wanted to send Frankie to England and that's how it started," said Cumanì.

"When he arrived I knew I had a bit responsibility because this was a 14-year-old kid who couldn't speak a word of English and had more or less ridden ponies and never really ridden racehorses before.

"But he was a very quick learner, he quickly learnt to speak English to a point and rode very well.

Steered

"It was not immediately obvious how much talent he had, but once he started get confidence on a horse and then he started riding work, you could see he had a natural affinity with the job."

It was four years after his arrival that Cumanì gave Frankie Dettori his first taste of Royal Ascot, jocking up aboard his apparent second string Rain Burst in the 1989 Coronation Stakes.

Dettori, who at the time was still claiming 3lb, had steered the Sheikh Mohammed-owned filly to a win in lesser company at Goodwood just nine days earlier and she was a 12-1 shot stepping up sharply in class.

Cumanì also fielded Comic Talent, who lined up under stable jockey Ray Cochrane following a five-race winning streak in the Cheveley Park silks.

In the end neither were able to land a telling blow, but Rain Burst did outperform her better-fancied stablemate to finish fifth. Cumanì had no doubt about giving Dettori his opportunity at the highest level, despite still being an apprentice.

He said: "He was only claiming 3lb and that was a fraud really because he was better than that."

Dettori rounded off 1989 by being crowned champion apprentice and by the time the following year's Royal Ascot came around, he was a fully-fledged jockey and Cumanì's main man.

The showpiece fixture got under way with the Queen Anne Stakes, in which Cumanì and Dettori teamed up with Markofdistinction, who had previously finished fourth as a hot favourite for the Locking Stakes.

Cumanì admits that while it was not entirely easy viewing, Dettori was at his brilliant best as he threaded the eye of the needle to secure the first of his 77 Royal Ascot wins to date.

"Remember it well because he took the daring route on the inside, going between runners and against the stands rail," Cumanì recalled.

"As he was poking his head in there I thought 'good God, I hope he's done the right thing here!'. Thankfully he burst through and won the race very well.

Successful

"We were hopeful of a good performance, never confident because with such high-class races you can't be confident, but we were hopeful and he delivered."

No one could have envisaged the glittering career Dettori would go on to enjoy, but Cumanì added: "We had an inkling."

"The fact that he'd only just come out of his apprenticeship and we made him stable jockey was a big vote of confidence."

"We had a good idea that he was going to be around for a long time and was going to be very successful."

Cumanì brought the curtain down on his own illustrious racing career in 2018, retiring from the training ranks after saddling two Derby winners in Kahyasi (1988) and High-Rise (1998) and countless other big-race winners over the course of 43 years.

He will not be travelling to Ascot but would love Dettori to bag at least one winner on his final Royal meeting performance, even if he believes he was hasty in his decision to announce his impending retirement late last year.

"I won't be going at all this year because my wife has had a foot operation and is hobbling about, so we'll be watching from home," Cumanì said.

"I send Frankie a message every time he wins a big race and tell him he's making a mistake in giving up and should carry on!"

"He will be a big loss to racing and I'm sure he's thought about it (changing his mind), but he seems to be determined this will be his last year, or so he tells me!"

GONE SOUTH: Parkinson

Lancashire lose Parky to Spitfires

ENGLAND leg-spinner Matt Parkinson will leave Lancashire at the end of the season after signing a three-year deal with Kent. Parkinson's career has stagnated since winning the last of a dozen England caps in July 2022 and he joined Durham briefly on loan after finding red-ball opportunities at Lancashire hard to come by.

The 26-year-old has featured in six Vitality Blast matches this year, taking just two wickets, and he will have a change of scenery at the end of the season when he swaps Emirates Old Trafford for Canterbury.

"The time is right for me to embrace a new challenge and environment," Parkinson said.

"I'm so excited that this will be at Kent. I believe my best years as a leg-spin bowler are ahead of me."

"I promise my new teammates and the Kent supporters that I will throw myself into this new challenge and I can't wait to get down to Canterbury to get started."

Kent director of cricket Paul Downton added: "To have a proven match-winning leg-spinner in our ranks will be a major boost. Matt is also a feisty competitor who will bring a lot to our dressing room."

Bath sign up Scot Stevie

BATH have appointed former head coach Andy Robinson and ex-Scotland forward Stevie Scott to their coaching team.

Robinson, 59, who led Bath to Heineken Cup glory in 1997 and acted as consultant last season, has been installed as the Gallagher Premiership club's new head academy coach and Scott, 48, as their new scrum coach.

Former England flanker Robinson told Bath's official website: "I'm glad to be back at Bath and I'm looking forward to making a change on the pitch."

"There's a great group of players here and I'm excited to see what I can achieve with the team."

Head of rugby Johann van Graan added: "Andy has achieved a tremendous amount in both his playing and coaching career and is a well-known face in the city."

Dragons can still make it says Rob

WALES KEEP FIGHTING FOR EUROS

ROB Page insists Wales can still automatically qualify for Euro 2024 next summer, despite suffering a second successive group defeat in Turkey.

Wales suffered a 2-0 loss in Samsun on the back of Friday's horror show against Armenia, when opponents ranked 97th in the world claimed a 4-2 victory in Cardiff.

Having reached the halfway point of their eight-game campaign, Wales are five points behind leaders Turkey and two adrift of Armenia who have a game in hand.

Bang

Group favourites Croatia are level on points with Wales having played two fewer games.

Wales are almost certainly guaranteed a play-off spot through their Nations League ranking, but manager Page insists his side can secure one of the automatic two qualifying spots on offer in Group D.

"Absolutely (I believe that)," said Page, who has overseen just one win in 12 games since Wales qualified for the World Cup last June.

"To do it, we need to get both sides of the game bang on and do it really well, if we are to be successful and get there.

"It's been a frustrating camp but there have been so many lessons to learn from it. We will address it. We go into every game to win it.

"It just means it's really important we get wins at home and get as many points from them."

Wales were left with an uphill task from the 41st minute when midfielder Joe Morrell caught Ferdi Kadioglu high with his studs and was sent off.

It was Wales' second red card in as many games after Kieffer Moore was dismissed against Armenia.

Danny Ward saved Hakan Calhanoglu's 64th-minute penalty after final 18 minutes. Page said: "Whenever you come to Turkey away, you know it's a tough test.

"Having said that, before the sending off, I thought we matched them and I was really pleased with the performance defensively, which we obviously addressed off the back of Friday's result.

"With the ball I thought we got Aaron and others in great positions up the pitch and we were brave to play through them.

"We looked at the footage and we thought that was an area we could exploit and that was working up until the sending off happens. Completely changes the game.

RED END: Moore

Aaron Ramsey handled Kadioglu's cross.

But Turkey's pressure told as substitutes Umut Nayir and Arda Guler scored in the "Up until the 70th minute I thought we defended our box really well, only one cross into our own box and it cost us, that first goal.

"He (Morrell) is not intentionally doing it. He's got his eye on the ball, but when you put your foot that high, you run the risk of getting a red card.

"He knows it. There's nobody more disappointed than Joe in the changing room."

Turkey boss Stefan Kuntz was relieved to get the victory, especially after his side twice had the ball in the net only to be denied by VAR checks.

Kuntz said: "I might need to wait next time until I cheer. It's been a difficult time for us and for the fans and in the second half we needed to be calmer.

"We tried to manage the game in the second half and the fans were very helpful."

■ KYLIAN Mbappe set another record as France stretched their 100 per cent start in European Championship qualifying Group B with a 1-0 win over Greece in Paris.

Mbappe's 55th-minute penalty was his 54th goal of the season and took him clear of Just Fontaine to become the top French scorer in a single club and international campaign.

But there was an air of fortune about his winner after Odysseas Vlachodimos palmed away his initial penalty only for the referee to spot an infringement and order the kick to be retaken.

Kolo Muani and Jules Kounde also had good chances for France while Greece's task became harder after Konstantinos Mavropanos was sent off for a foul on Muani in the 69th minute.

KAZ A KICK IN THE BALLS

MICHAEL O'Neill said Northern Ireland did not deserve to lose their Euro 2024 qualifier at home to Kazakhstan after being hit by a "sucker-punch" from substitute Abat Aimbetov in the 88th minute.

By PAUL THOMAS

Northern Ireland had more of the ball and created more opportunities, but the lack of quality in the final third told once again as O'Neill's injury-hit squad fell to a 1-0 defeat for a third consecutive Group H match.

They had been pushing for a winner when Aimbetov broke away from his own half late on, before slotting past Bailey Peacock-Farrell.

Qualification for next summer's finals now looks a long shot as Northern Ireland have only three points, secured against minnows San Marino, from their opening four fixtures, but O'Neill's bigger concern this week has been nurturing a young team with 10 senior players missing.

"I don't think it was merited," O'Neill said in the wake of a result that was greeted with boos at the final whistle at Windsor Park. "We were very dominant in the first half, we found it quite difficult to play through a team that was set up to defend deep with 10 players behind the ball.

"We created one or two opportunities...and we gave up one chance which was poor defending on our part. In the second half I think the game looked like it was drifting a bit but I think the substitutes gave us a lift.

"We lost Jonny at that point, we had to change the shape and we were a little bit patched up in the back four, and then we lose a goal right at the end, a sucker-punch.

"I think Kazakhstan were more than happy to settle for a point and they came away with all three and it's a very disappointing result.

Starting

"For us to lose the game in that way is extremely disappointing. We've lost three games 1-0, we've conceded goals that if you're going to progress at this level you can't concede and we're learning the hard way at the moment that the mistakes are costing us."

Conor Bradley was missing through injury but there were two teenagers in the starting line-up in Shea Charles and Isaac Price, with Dale Taylor on the bench.

Patience could be a key word, but after a second half in which the atmosphere at Windsor fell flat, some fans booed the players off.

"Fans are entitled to boo," O'Neill said. "We lost the game 1-0. I don't read too much into that. Very rarely do you go to a match where the home team lose 1-0 and the fans cheer.

"They were probably frustrated to see us lose the game as we are as staff and players, but hopefully they see a young team which is going to have to take a bit of time to mould that team.

"We need a little more experience and some of our more experienced players back to help a lot of those younger players."

SETBACK: O'Neill

KILLER: Aimbetov's late winner

IRELAND READY FOR SUPERPOWERS

REPUBLIC of Ireland boss Stephen Kenny has insisted "nothing is impossible" as he plots Euro 2024 qualifying victories over European superpowers France and the Netherlands in September.

Kenny's men opened their Group B account with a 3-0 victory over Gibraltar on a case at a site of the disappointment of Friday night's defeat in Greece.

Ireland's hopes of securing one of the top two look forlorn unless they can pull off a series of shock results, but that is what Kenny intends to do.

Asked what his message was to the players, he replied: "It's a seven-day window just, it's a short window. It's France on a

Thursday night in Paris and Holland on a Sunday night here in the Aviva Stadium, so it's a really, really exciting window.

"They're two tough games, but very exciting games. We've just got to make sure we're well prepared. They're epic games.

"At the same time, nothing is impossible, that's how we feel about it.

"Obviously we pushed France very close at home. I know this is different in Paris, but it will be an interesting game for us and very exciting, the two games."

For 45 minutes, Ireland hammered away at the visitors, but without the craft, pace or guile to break them down, although it took a fine reaction save from goalkeeper Dayle Coleing to deny Jamie McGrath seconds before the break.

The game changed, however, with Celtic winger Mikey Johnston's half-time introduction and he had already sparked terror in the Gibraltar defence on three occasions when he ran on to Will Smallbone's half-blocked free-kick and stabbed into the empty net for his first senior international goal.

Evan Ferguson increased the lead within seven minutes and substitute Adam Idah finally opened his Ireland account in stoppage time to secure the first points of the campaign at the third attempt.

Asked if Johnston, whose four caps to date have come from the bench, could make a similar impact over 90 minutes, Kenny said: "He's been terrific. Definitely he can start matches. I had it in my head that probably he was going to start, but it didn't happen for him in Greece.

"We're still a bit disappointed about Greece. It wasn't his night, certainly, when he came on, but he has terrific talent, I really appreciate his talent. He's a Celtic player and it will be interesting if he goes back there."

Kenny added: "We obviously made life difficult for ourselves after Friday night. But Greece are a good team. They have to play Holland twice, and France in France.

"France will win the group, so we have to have good September and October windows.

"The return game with Greece will be a different game, and obviously tough games against Holland and France. But we still have every chance and we just have to back ourselves in those windows."

City chief promises even more

MANCHESTER City chairman Khaldoon Al Mubarak insists there will be no stopping as the club continue to grow their global influence.

The Premier League and European champions sit at the heart of a worldwide network of 13 clubs known as the City Football Group.

As well as City, the CFG operates clubs in New York, Melbourne and Yokohama, and this year brought Brazilian outfit Bahia into the fold.

Khaldoon told the club's media channels: "It's always about growth. You grow, you pause, you get things in order, and then you start the next step, one step at a time. We're not going to stop.

"We're going to keep going and we're going to keep investing and we're going to keep growing value, and we're going to keep bringing happiness to every community and every club we have in the world, and hopefully we'll keep bringing success in every club and team we have around the world.

"It's been a great journey over the last 15 years but I'm excited about the future and it's about now, the next 10, 15 years too."

Manchester City have been the greatest success story having won seven Premier League titles since 2012 and this year they became only the second English side to win the treble.

The club's latest new infrastructure project is now in the pipeline with plans recently submitted to increase capacity at the Etihad Stadium to more than 60,000.

The expansion is part of a £300m development which also includes a hotel, shops and food and drink outlets as well as a 3,000-capacity fan zone.

Khaldoon says it will not be the last improvement at the stadium.

"It's very exciting," he said. "Every year there's always something new, every year, because there's always a need to improve and evolve and grow. We don't stand still. We never stood still.

"Every couple of years we will do something, whether it's the Tunnel Club, new stands, seating.

"And now we're going to have a wonderful development that's going to just enhance the whole area, is going to be great for the fans and it's going to bring, I think, positive revenue for the club.

"We're always in growth mode, never 'let's just milk the asset'."

GARETH'S ASAKA BACKER!

Three Lions star let ready to take game to next level after North Macedonia hat-trick

GARETH Southgate lauded Bukayo Saka after the England star scored a treble against North Macedonia and enjoyed one of the best nights of his life.

Having followed up March's wins against Italy and Ukraine by beating Malta 4-0 on Friday, the side put on a show on Monday as their Euro 2024 qualification cakewalk continued.

Harry Kane's brace was complemented by Marcus Rashford and Kalvin Phillips efforts at Old Trafford, where Saka was the star of the 7-0 annihilation.

A fierce strike from a tight angle was followed at the start of the second half by a stupendous second, before then quickly wrapping up the first hat-trick of his career.

Saka was given a standing ovation after a sparkling performance made all the more impressive by the fact Southgate revealed he has been dealing with an Achilles issue.

"He's had it for a few weeks and it's an injury that just needs managing, but it would have been easy not to appear," the England boss said.

"I think when you then have probably one of the best nights of your life, it's a reminder to everybody that it's worth going through those things.

"To see the joy on his face, he's such a popular member of the team and so humble, works incredibly hard and, of course, talented.

"He's been finishing like that all week, so, yeah, it was outstanding performance."

Asked how close Saka is to being at an elite level, Southgate said: "Yeah, I think he's there.

"When he broke into the team at Arsenal, what struck us was that in a team that were having a difficult time he was performing at a really high level.

"Then when the team were playing well he was still a key player and performing at a really high level.

"So, that says a lot about his mentality, his ability to deal with pressure and that's the environment that we're in all the time. He's exceptional to work with."

Suffer

Saka's goals in the final match of this unprecedented season mean it is a matter of when rather than if England wrap up qualification for next summer's Euros.

There were few signs of fatigue at a rocking Old Trafford, where Macedonia suffered their heaviest ever defeat.

"The scoreline is outrageous, really," Southgate said. "That wasn't really how you were expecting the game to be because there's no evidence that Macedonia would suffer like that.

"There's no evidence that the game in the end would be as straightforward as it was and certainly in the opening 20 minutes it didn't look that way, so it's huge credit to (the group).

"I think our senior players have set a brilliant tone all week and Jordan Henderson on the pitch tonight.

"He won't get the headlines but the way he set the tone for winning the ball back and running forward and mixing the game up I think was really important."

Macedonia were blown away at Old Trafford, where they were a far cry from the side that shocked Germany and Italy in recent years.

Head coach Blagoja Milevski said: "Before we start the press conference, I want to apologise to the whole of the Macedonian nation for our performance and what we did tonight.

"I make decisions for every player who plays and the responsibility is just mine so I have to apologise for the whole of the Macedonian nation.

"It happens that these disastrous moments happen and we are all involved in it. I take all the responsibility for today's game."

Here's our verdict on the England players against North Macedonia: JORDAN PICKFORD: The Everton goalkeeper's summer holidays started early as he had nothing to do on a simple evening. 6 (out of 10).

KYLE WALKER: At 33, he is still full of running and marauded down the right flank at any given opportunity. 7.

HARRY MAGUIRE: Had the luxury of venturing forward throughout the night and nearly teed up teammate Marcus Rashford for a goal. 7.

JOHN STONES: Back in the defence at international level and could not have had an easier night of it – was fouled late on as North Macedonia conceded a penalty. 7.

LUKE SHAW: Like the rest of the defence, spent the majority of the game being able to push forward and play a role in attack. 7.

TRENT ALEXANDER-ARNOLD: Sterner tests will come but the experiment of moving the Liverpool man into midfield really is paying off as he provided a stunning assist for Bukayo Saka. 9.

DECLAN RICE: Fairly quiet evening for the West Ham skipper. 7.

JORDAN HENDERSON: Claimed one assist and always confident on the ball. 8.

BUKAYO SAKA: Needed less than an hour to score his first professional hat-trick, his second goal coming with a stunning strike at the start of the second half. 10.

MARCUS RASHFORD: Grabbed a goal in front of the Stretford End and was a constant threat from the left. 8.

HARRY KANE: Another two goals and an assist for the prolific England captain, who opened the scoring before slamming in a penalty to wrap things up. 9.

SUBSTITUTES:
CONOR GALLAGHER (for Henderson, 58): Constantly buzzing around as a nuisance to the opposition. 6.

JACK GREALISH (for Rashford, 58): First outing since his high-profile treble-winning celebrations and showed some good touches. 6.

PHIL FODEN (for Saka, 59): Replaced the man of the match but never really got into the game. 6.

KALVIN PHILLIPS (for Rice, 59): Tapped in his first England goal moments after coming on.

CALLUM WILSON (for Kane, 74): Could not add to his goal off the bench in Malta but is clearly the current favourite in terms of providing back-up to Kane. 6.

WINS WILL WIN OVER CRITICS

FORMER Celtic manager Martin O'Neill believes winning games will soon win over fans who are sceptical about the return of Brendan Rodgers.

An influential group of supporters posted an old photo of a banner declaring the manager a "fraud" over his professed love for the club. In the wake of his appointment as manager for a second time, Rodgers' sudden exit for Leicester in February 2019 still stings some supporters.

"Not every single Celtic fan will be happy with it initially after the way he left the club," O'Neill said.

"But he was very successful, which is great. When you start to win a few football matches, you're back in the rhythm again and everything's going fine."

"Rodgers will still be working with some of the players that he left. If he wins some matches then everything else will fall into place."
